ER FROM
Y ECZEMA,
MATISM,

If you are a victim of Gout, Gravel, Rheumatism, or Diabetes, it is because there is present in your system a poison which, if proper measures are not taken to remove it, will make your life a curse, and eventually destroy it altogether. This poison is known as uric acid, and its accumulation in the system is, in most cases, due to carelessness in the matter of food and drink, which causes the system to become plethoric, indolent, and generally degenerated, and generates the painful acid to rid itself to the present time the usual method of ridding teral spring, which involves the expenditure of considerable time and money, and the unpleasant ordeal of great quantities of nauseous, drastic, and generally lowering mineral water each day. This, however, is a reliable guarantee of a famous spring in arid soil, although, by various means, it is a thorough study of it is now possible to obtain, at a nominal expense, all the benefits of a mineral spring at one's own home.

DISSOLVES THE ACIDS.

A detection and concentration of the most valuable mineral spring salts and the addition of a few other elements are all that enter into the famous Eutaw's Improved Effervescent Carbolic Powder, a remedy which creates the same effect as the most famous European mineral waters, while lacking all their unhealthful features, such as their excessive acidity, their unpleasantness, their tendency to ferment as in the series of micro-organisms, and some lowering properties. The diabolic will find the Powder of especial value in cases of rheumatism, and is used in the present case. (See below.) The powder contains several times the proportion of mineral salts to be present in the water. The powder dissolves the acids and ferments, and creates the dissolved form of the system, which, being perfectly absorbed, the production of acid is not stopped by the stimulation and action of the powder on the liver and digestive functions, the patient specially does not.

RHEUMATIC GOUT.

From rheumatic gout will find that a course of KUTNOW'S POWDER restores the limbs formerly affected.

and regulates the action of the bowels as to manage an attack or prevent a recurrence.

DISORDERED LIVER.

A disordered or sluggish liver is caused by cold, acid, or other causes. A course of KUTNOW'S POWDER, taking the bow more fluid and thus stimulating the flow of blood, affords almost instantaneous relief.

CONSTIPATION.

For the investigation KUTNOW'S POWDER is a natural, harmless remedy, acting promptly, as Nature herself does. In two or three weeks will usually be found to so regulate the excretory functions that they are soon able to without any aid whatever.

BILIOUSNESS.

The best remedy for biliousness is in a course of KUTNOW'S POWDER, which, by expelling from the body the hile and acids, improves the assimilative processes, and thus purifies the blood, and tones up and strengthens the system.

INDORSEMENTS THAT INDORSE.

Do not hesitate to assert that no medicinal preparation has ever been the recipient of so many hearty, and well-considered indorsements from eminent physicians, the leading medical journals, and journals connected with the art, as has EUTON'S FOUNTAIN. The printed opinions that will be found already here given publicly in these columns, we reproduce them because they are of a character to cause any reader to attach a greater importance to them than to the testimony of thousands of unknowns usually given in the every-day advertisements.

THE ACTIVE PRINCIPLE OF THE MINERAL SPRINGS.

LANCET says:—"The medicinal virtues of the well-known waters of Carlsbad depend on the presence of salts. The water is accordingly estimated to be useful in rheumatism, gout, and kidney disorders. Carlsbad's Fountein is stated to contain, among other ingredients, the active principle of the Harard well."

direct to the mineral water. However, this may be changed according to the presence of the chief component. The Powder is beautifully clean and white, and is evidently prepared with care, while the effervescent solution is by no means disagreeable."

EFFICIENT AND AGREEABLE APERIENT.

BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL says:—"Messrs. Kuhnaw and Co. showed an improved Effervescent Powder, decidedly more efficient than the ordinary Carbolic Powder, evaporated at the expense of which it is, therapeutic effects, while effectively covering the economic, taste and objectionable smell of the soda. It is gentle, pleasant, and is a very efficient and agreeable aperient."

PRESCRIBED IN HIS HOSPITAL PRACTICE.

SACRET, Physician at the Hôpital de Aix-les-Bains, says:—"I have prescribed your Powder for about a year and a half, and have found it to be a valuable agent. I have obtained the best results in persons from rheumatism and gout, as well as in those who are constipated and ill on from the effects of the 'sore' or the change of food and climate. I consider Kuhnaw's Improved Effervescent Carbolic Powder a preparation suitable to persons travelling."

A DECIDEDLY PLEASANT DRAUGHT.

BRISTOL MEDICO-BIURGICAL JOURNAL says:—"Of the great utility of Carbolic acid in purifying febrile lives and inducing a correlation there can be no question; the principal difficulty is pure habit from the inaction of the dose. This [difficulty] however vanishes the active principle of the Boreal slightly sweetened and effervescence form. A tablespoonful of the Powder in half a tumbler of water makes a pleasant draught, and taken in early morning is an efficient aperient."

WITHOUT DISCOMFORT OR GRIPING.

LEVY BENDALL, M.D. says:—"I have used R. Kilmoe and Co.'s Improved Effervescence Carbolic Powder, and it is a efficient medicine, especially in the case of children, where its agreeable taste overcomes the usual

IND AND WATER.—We.—This (Kulnaw's) Powder is very strongly recommended by many acknowledged authorities for use in suffering from rheumatism, gout, and disorders of the stomach, liver, and kidney. It is also given as a creative medicine in all suitable for people leading sedentary lives. We are informed that the following important testimonial has been published in THE LANCET, LONDON, 11th SEPTEMBER 1893: "DR. WALKER and other members of the Royal Family, which afford us an indication of the opinion of the highest medical authorities, have been cured of their ailments by the use of the 5 p. l. second Edition of the 'Book of the Preparation of Kulnaw's Improved Effervescent Carbolated Powder, and in the use of its medicinal properties.' We have seen a letter from the late Sir WILLIAM LALOR to Dr. Walker of the following tenor: 'In the strongest terms, in which I can express my opinion of its medicinal benefits, we have no hesitation in bringing them to the notice of our readers.'" with Russia, it has been well said, begins with a diplomatic revolution. The policy of the Russian Government," said Lord Palmerston in 1851, "has always been to proceed with its consequences as rapidly as the appearance of the necessity of other Governments permitted, but to retire if it encountered determined opposition." The Russian Government has a favourable opportunity to renew the onslaught on its intended victim." This was the case with Persia, and there were cases where the first attack was followed by a more real and powerful porray drama. In the case of Persia, at this point would perhaps save the ground, public much annoyance and inconvenience, might be avoided. In the case of Persia, might be found to bear with alive rigour. Even then under the present position the case might justify these accidental occurrences of the means, and even to the Minister, exactly described the present situation that has been going on for the last half-century in China, and with much more boldness and rapidity during the last few years. Russia on the west, in alliance with France on the east, has been steadily closing in on the Indian frontiers. The policy of Russia is to isolate and encircle China, and to keep her from becoming a world power. The policy of the hard social economic theists of the future is to isolate and encircle Russia from a life of the future. The might may be the right, but the right may be the might. In connection with the temporary injustice, in connection with subjects of this kind we sometimes have rather too much about the necessity for respecting the rights of the citizens and the privileges of parents and guardians.

the two most populous empires of Asia and the world—India and China—and to do this she has relentlessly drawn on Persia and Afghanistan in the west and the China coast in the east. Manchuria is already practically hers, and in a few years she will have as successfully solved the problem of obtaining ice-free ports in the Pacific. The situation virusually comes to this—that Russia has been pressing forward her railways with feverish haste, that she has already won a strategic position on the coast of the eastern coast of Asia, that with France as an ally, she may, if British statesmen do not respond with equal vigour to her efforts, not only oust British trade from China, but be in a position to reconquer the entire world.

to threaten the Empire through India. No one, of course, in that England, which has been the most successful of all nations in the art of making short of that England can still play her part. And she will probably be most successful in assisting in the awakening of China itself. The Russians are bent on acquiring territory, and the English on expanding on the day may not be too distant when the English will be the ruler of the East.

further partition of her territory, whilst the eyes of her rulers will be unequalled to the advantages of trade. In that case China herself, with her 350,000,000 of people, will interpose as a bulwark against the European advance. It seems the mission of the English therefore, to be the earnest co-ordinator in the educative process; to, in fact, undertake peacefully the conquest of China); to obtain by means which she knows so well how to employ trade concessions, and inculcate the Chinese ruling class with the advantages of the European doctrine of democracy. It is by no means a huge undertaking, and all the more difficult because Russia is probably the one nation capable of assimilating the Chinese as she strides forward. And all marking a prohibited period for unattended children to be found in the streets, whether begging, selling, or playing. The police are generally the first step towards closing the streets. The police, however, indicated by different clauses, such as from eight or ten o'clock in the evening to five in the morning, but it was sought to make it an offense the while, as it seems, France, the junior partner in action, assisting her senior, Russia, and busily engaged in helping to square-trade between Burma and the Upper Yangtze, and so to the domination of Mongolia, and on to Tibet. All this marvellous activity has been revealed plainly enough during the last few years, and it may serve to impress on Englishmen the fact that the Chinese are not to be despised for any kind of political or diplomatic chicanery.

is charged to carry India who has to preserve, Africa yet to gain, and in China, at least, to use the modern expression, to obtain "a sphere of influence" against the efforts and intrigues of a nation whose leading spirits openly scoff at the idea of a "sphere of influence." Small wonder, therefore, that when the time seems fitting Russia semi-official journals should openly sympathise with France against England, as they did over the Fashoda incident the other day. And it may yet be one of the most profound scales of the British Empire, to see how far it is wise to dissipate the energies of the Empire in Africa whilst this Chinese problem remains seething with danger. There is no apparent connection between our interests in Africa and China, except that Russia is opposed to us in the latter continent. After all, the strength of a chain is its weakest link. And Russia will not hesitate to instigate a blow at the weakest point of our armour, even though the expected wound may seem to be delirious in a spot so remote as not to affect the rest of the body.

was not exactly a "visionary," remarked at St. Helena: "If a Czar, brave, daring, and endowed with good parts, were to come to the throne of Russia, he could conquer all Europe." The protection of children is a question which has recently been engaging the attention of the South Australian Legislature, principally with a view to securing laws and orders of appeal years from the streets. The question does not seem to have been approached with too much judgment, but it is one which might fittingly engage the attention of the proper authorities in all the large American cities. Our own metropolis is by no means free from the reproach implied by the necessity for legislation of this character. Anyone who knows anything of the streets of Sydney after nightfall in the vicinity of the theatres, the large hotels, and the lighted windows of the shops. The thoroughfares must be painfully familiar with the sight of young children, of tender and even of infantile years, who wander about under pretence sometimes of selling matches or flowers, and sometimes of offering to sell you adventures, and other matters of little value.

SIR WILLIAM MACDOUGALL—Sir William Macgregor arrived in Sydney on the 19th inst. to stay in Sydney until Monday, when he goes on to Melbourne by train to join the steamer Ville de la Ciotat, by which he is booked to London on the 27th inst.

but just as often for the undisciplined purpose of "hopping."

It was witnessed these nights without a pained feeling of realization of the hopeless outlook for these children. It needs no prophet to predict what the future holds in store for these boys and girls when they pass from the stage of tutelage and become the "big boys" and "big girls" who are out on a derelict of livelihood on the streets.

Mr. Reid is pleased with the work of the Assembly. The members of the Assembly, he says, will take up the consideration of "felatation" almost immediately.

CEREMONY.—The Minister for Justice is engaged in looking into matters connected with the management of the juvenile courts. The Commissioner of Prisons, the chief medical officer, and the Inspector-General of Prisons, were recently appointed a board to deal with the management of the juvenile courts.

Quite as hopelessly, apparently, would be any isolated attempt to rescue these waifs, or any effort to check the coming of new recruits to this melancholy field of juvenile boggardry and its kindred vices, if it remained open. REPORTS.
ANTICIPATIONS BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTERS.
MELBOURNE PRESS.
The great equine carnival of the spring commences at Flemington to-morrow, and should the weather prove favourable, it will be the largest of the largest ever witnessed at the headquarters of the V.R.C. To-day the weather was very calm, alternating between sunshine and rain, and the wind was light and variable. There were several heavy showers of rain, accompanied by much lightning, but the sun shone brightly in the intervals, making things rather unpleasant in the city; but the rain was most welcome, and the prospects of much better weather for the Derby were much improved. The city is full of visitors from all parts of Australia, New South Wales being strongly represented. In fact, a Sydney contingent of 3,000 would need little or no stretch of imagination to himself in Pitt or George streets owing to the fact that the rain has been so much needed as the result of a favourable day for the race as a whole, but the track as it looks its best; but the track as it
